

We do what we love. Our work is an exciting part of our lives.

All production steps are under control:

- The yarn containing camel wool or alpaca wool comes from raw materials we purchase and is manufactured according to our technical requirements as to quality, variety, length, fineness and color;
- Latex and polyester yarns used to manufacture elastic fabrics meet our quality requirements as well as physical and technical parameters;
- The machines for knitting elastic fabrics are manufactured and adjusted according to our technical requirements;
- The special plant for the finishing of elastic fabrics is a unique item made according to our technical specifications.

All the above-mentioned conditions to produce unique elastic fabrics (patent pending) allow us to sew our exclusive products: elastic warming bands and bandages (for knee joints, elbow joints, lower legs, wrists, ankles, shoulder joints) with fine massage effect made of camel or alpaca wool. The interaction of a special combination of fibers in terms of length, fineness and type of wool guarantees optimal warming and massage effect.

How do you keep the body of an athlete warm before a competition?

Warming up before a competition to improve muscle elasticity and joint mobility is an essential component significantly affecting the performance of an athlete. However, not only sufficient warming up, but also maintaining the body warm should be ensured before a competition. WOOLGALAXY products (elastic warming massage belts and bandages with camel or alpaca wool) allow athletes to warm up and increase the temperature in those muscle groups and joints that are particularly important for competitive performance.

The warming up of muscles and joints increases the overall performance of the body by strengthening the vegetative functions. An increase in body temperature, mainly in the muscles, is of great importance for improving performance, especially during fast movements. Furthermore, the performance of skeletal muscles is increased, degradation products, especially lactic acid, are completely oxidized, the performance of the muscles is increased, and their fatigue reduced. At the same time, the increase in body temperature ensures faster metabolic processes and increasing oxygen consumption with higher utilization.

An increase in the temperature of muscles and joints also improves their blood supply and thus provides higher oxygenation.

Muscles consume significant amounts of oxygen. Thus, at rest, about 1/3 of the total oxygen consumption accounts for the muscles. At the same time, muscles can consume 10 to 15 times more oxygen when heavily stressed.

It is also important that because of the temperature increase in the muscles, their viscosity decreases and the elasticity increases. This apparently contributes to the performance of fast movements.

An increase in body temperature raises the excitability of the respiratory center, which has a positive effect on the respiratory function.

Finally, it should be noted that with increasing temperature, the speed of nerve excitation and the excitation between nerve and muscle increases. All these factors make it clear why increasing the temperature in muscles and joints by using WOOLGALAXY products is so important.
